Eddie,

Lorrie and many of the women here are connected to the NYC and NJ mafia. I recognize her, in particular, because of the VH1 reality tv show series called Mob Wives. She threatened me with discharge to intimidate me outside tonight if I did not watch my mouth.

The context is that Trump is in Florida. Governor de Santis is stalling on extradition of him to New York state following his indictment in courts there this afternoon. Trump is very much connected to the mafia in the North Eastern USA. I am a longtime federal, FBI informant and witness for a longtime to come. I will be working for the NSA or FBI in DC soon.

Her discharging me puts my life at risk over nothing more than hatred and brute force intimidation that we should expect. Helping her do this is criminal. Helping suppress or bury (so to speak) witness information is minimally obstruction of justice. We are talking about the federal government, not the local police here in Florida. We need to discuss some things as well. My first priority is to follow up with the FBI tomorrow on the phone. You are aware of their ongoing investigation here? Why did this go through? Think carefully.

See you tomorrow,

Dr. Maxie Dion Schmidt

Eddie,

I plan to get out to have some privacy before you get in the office today. If I am unable to return before we can discuss, I request that you suspend arbitrary discharges by non-daytime, weekend staff until we can meet next week. The discharge threat is only invoked to screw people over: Dicie should have been discharged immediately in public by Lorrie for narcotics use around minors, but was allowed to stay because of how close she was to her goal (for example). You need to check the audio for the required meeting last night. This is a big deal, and an atypical situation, for sure.

Please respond to this message with some comments. How should I get in touch over the weekend if something abnormal happens again?

Maxie
